The heads on most demolition multitools are designed to smash wood, not drive nails into it. Because the Stiletto TiBar 16 ($250) weighs just 2 pounds, it is light and balanced enough to replace a hammer. And while it's pricey, it's also one of the nicest-looking and best-feeling tools we've seen in a while—it was almost a shame to tarnish its titanium body by slamming it through Sheetrock. stiletto.com
